LIBRARY OF THINGS

We are lending snowshoes again this year and have expanded our selection to include two pair of 25" and one pair of 36" so more people can enjoy the fun.

Looking for something to do indoors to exercise your mind? We have a few murder mystery and escape room experience games that can be checked out.

LIGHTING

What's not to love about our new LED lighting? We've got dimmable fixtures in the children's room, we don't have to replace bulbs and ballasts any more, we have no more headache inducing flickering fluorescents and we are using less kwh. The ONE thing that we don't love: the emergency light in the basement that makes it look like we forgot to turn off the lights. If you notice this light, be assured that despite the brightness it is a small LED that uses very little electricity and we installed curtains so it's less obtrusive to neighbors and passersby. This light was a reasonable compromise that allows the library to have a robust system of necessary emergency lights without the high cost of rewiring. The power went out in September and all the stairwells and exits were well lit!

MEET YOUR BUS DRIVERS

Robin Gibson

We built a home here to be near family and friends as my husband is from the local area. I've been driving a bus for just a couple of years but I have had plenty of experience between driving in the city with crazy traffic and driving in the mountains with snow, ice and plenty of mud. I enjoy driving in this little town and absolutely love the kids. I love my job. Every day is filled with children that make me laugh and I think we could all use a bit of that.

Aaron Newton

I live in Ryegate with my wife and 3 children with a 4th child on the way. I started driving a bus for Barre City 5 years ago and I love driving the bus for this small town. I also work full-time at Saint Johnsbury Academy driving buses and doing custodial duties. I am a volunteer fireman for the Ryegate and Monroe Fire departments.
